ALBANY, N.Y. – They started out in Buffalo on Sunday, July 10, leaving their cars behind. Some 50 bicyclists from 35 states will be arriving in Rochester on Monday, July 11 as participants in the 13th a Cycling the Erie Canal tour, organized by Parks & Trails New York, a statewide not-for-profit organi: The 400-mile bicycle tour ends on Sunday, July 17 in Albany.

About three-quarters of the journey is on the off-road Erie Canalway Trail. When the Trail is finished will be the longest statewide trails in the United States.

“The 13th annual Cycling the Erie Canal tour is an inexpensive and healthy way to explore the Erie C and upstate New York. Plus it’s fun. I call it a rolling summer camp for all ages,” says Parks & Trails York Executive Director Robin Dropkin. “We have cyclists from over 35 states plus several hundred volunteers in communities along the route ready to welcome riders and help them discover what mal Erie Canal and upstate New York unique.”
