TRAIL & TRAVEL NOTES

A Glacial Lakeshore — This level section of the Erie Canal, known as the "upper long level," follows the edge of a prehistoric glacial lake for over 70 miles from Lockport to just east of Rochester.

Only Road Under Erie Canal — About two miles east of Medina, the Erie Canal runs over Culvert Road – the only place where a road passes under the canal. Listed in Ripley's Believe It or Not, it's a strange feeling indeed to stand under the Erie Canal and have canal water drip down your neck.

Cycling Tips — A designated bicycle route runs roughly parallel to the canal along the shore of Lake Ontario located about 10 miles to the north. A guidebook is available from the New York State Seaway Trail, a National Scenic Byway (1-800-Seaway).
